

Dr. Heiko Hilse
Partner

heiko.hilse@osb-i.com
T +49 30 51 30 73 74
M +49 151 12 11 00 00

osb Berlin GmbH
Oranienburger Str. 90
10178 Berlin, Germany

www.osb-i.com

»Closely involving stakeholders in the organization's journey means tapping into the collective strength of a system.«

Dr. Heiko Hilse

»Pathways to success are manifold – so could there be anything more creative than jointly searching for it?«

- Executive Board Member and Partner at osb international
- Organizational consultant focusing on strategy, leadership, change and communication
- Coach and trainer for leaders and teams

Recent consulting activities

- Strategy development and implementation
- Effective leadership teams and leadership communities
- Leadership and culture change processes
- Organizational crisis and transformation processes
- Leadership development programs dealing with strategy, leadership, change and innovation management
- Consulting of start-ups, technology and industrial companies, research and science organizations
- Consulting in an international context

Professional background

- Studies of psychology at University of Konstanz and Rutgers University, New Jersey (USA)
- PhD in sociology on learning organizations and knowledge management, University of Bielefeld
- Change management consultant and learning and development manager at the corporate university of Daimler AG, Stuttgart
- Foundation and management of Infineon Institute, corporate learning & development center of Infineon Technologies AG, München
- In addition: Management of Internal Communications at Infineon
- Further education in systemic consulting, organizational development, business administration and international management