

Margit Oswald
Partner

margit.oswald@osb-i.com
T +43 1 526 08 13 0
M +43 664 443 14 92

osb Wien Consulting GmbH
Volksgartenstr. 3/1. DG
1010 Vienna, Austria

www.osb-i.com

»Internationalization of companies is one of the most demanding development processes. At present, I devote most of my energy to making key players fit for the journey into the unknown.«

Margit Oswald

»I have great respect for the self-development potential of each and every one of us. I take great pleasure in offering my support services to ensure that this potential takes effective shape.«

- Partner, osb international
- Management trainer and organizational consultant
- ÖGGO teaching trainer and teaching consultant

Recent consulting activities

- Specialist in Leadership Development Programs (design, implementation, and global program management), especially for customized, strategy-based in-house management development programs supporting corporate development
- Design and facilitation of learning journeys in an international context
- Consulting and development for management teams
- Coaching for top executives
- Assessment of leadership potential, creation of development plans, career counselling
- Strategy development and implementation
- Supporting holistic corporate development processes, especially in family businesses (in internationalization processes)
- Training and continuing education of trainers and organizational consultants

Professional background

- Studied German and English at the University of Vienna, postgraduate studies in the U.S.
- Trained in group dynamics and organizational consulting (ÖGGO)
- Further training in general system theory, systemic consulting and systemic structure constellations (SYST)
- Management trainer and organizational consultant with osb international since 1988
- Management of the family business and at osb international (managing director in Vienna, executive board of osb international)